Criminal Tariff

General Information

This chapter of LSS Tariffs provides information about how LSS will compensate you for the criminal law services that you provide to clients. For general information about your contract with LSS, see General Terms and Conditions. For information about criminal appeals, see Appeals and Judicial Reviews.

The Criminal Tariff explains each criminal billing item and contains the tariff and offence codes. For information about billing disbursement items, please see Disbursements.

Scope of the criminal referral

Each criminal referral lists the charges against your client that LSS was aware of on the date of interview/assignment. LSS issues referrals for four levels of offences: administrative, summary, indictable, and major. These charges generally involve the risk of jail, a direct loss of livelihood, immigration complications that could result in deportation, or Aboriginal rights. Current coverage and financial eligibility guidelines are outlined on the LSS website under Legal Aid — Legal Representation.

Tariff items

This chapter describes the individual tariff items and how LSS pays you for them. Some of these services are paid a single block fee, while others are paid a block fee per half day (or per two half days), or an hourly rate.

Unless noted otherwise, the billing limits described in the tariff are calculated per client and you may usually bill legal services on different Informations separately. Where the tariff indicates that two services cannot be billed together, bill for the service with the higher legal fee.

Distinct legal fees are payable for the same legal service depending on the offence level. If two offence levels are included on one Information, bill your services at the tariff rate of the higher offence level. If your client is committed to trial for a lesser included offence, all legal services you provide after that committal are paid at the tariff rate for the lesser included offence (based on its offence level).

Adding charges

Your referral form lists the charges against your client that LSS knows about on the date of the interview/assignment. If the charges are materially incorrect, contact the referring office. If there are additional charges, do the following:

- If there are additional charges on the same Information, add them to your billing form without getting special authorization.
- If you find out about additional charges on different Informations within 90 days of the interview/assignment date, submit the Authorization for Additional Charges form (on the LSS website under Lawyers — Forms and questionnaires) to the referring office. If the client is covered, the referring office will send you a revised referral. You must ensure that the referring office has authorized coverage before you provide services.
- If there are additional charges on different Informations more than 90 days after the interview/assignment date, instruct your client to reapply for legal aid to cover the additional charges.

Severances

The term “Information” refers to the information or indictment upon which the Crown proceeds unless:

- a court-ordered severance occurs,
- the Crown proceeds separately under one Information, or
- the defence elects separate trials, and the judge permits this.

When severances occur, you may treat each severed trial, preliminary hearing, or plea as if it belonged to a separate Information. When billing, include an e-billing note.

“C” Informations

If an Information is re-laid, bill only for legal services on the “C” Information. In this situation, don’t bill the stay on the original Information. An original Information and a “C” Information will be treated as the same Information if:

- the charges on the “C” Information include all the charges on the original Information,
- the charges are amended,
- the charges are lesser included offences, or
- the charges refer to the same facts as the original Information.

Co-accused

“Co-accused” refers to two or more individuals jointly charged on a single Information. In youth court, the co-accused include all individuals charged with offences arising out of the same incident.

Full legal fees are payable only for your first client. If you represent more than one client, you are entitled to one additional half-fee per service provided, regardless of the number of additional clients.

When you provide legal services to only one co-accused on a separate half day, you may bill the full legal fees for those services.

Criminal Case Management (formerly SCAP)

Criminal Case Management (CCM) applies to all criminal cases where the preliminary hearing or trial is scheduled to last more than 20 half days, or if the case is complex and the general preparation time is anticipated to be more than 75 hours. You must contact Case Management at 604-601-6155 or 1-888-401-6206 (no charge), or email helpdesk.case-mgt@lss.bc.ca in advance to arrange a CCM budget. Once on CCM, the case must stay on CCM. The CCM policy and procedures define and explain the spectrum of case management, including the responsibilities of LSS and counsel. Please see the LSS website (under Lawyers — LSS Policies). If you have questions, please contact Case Management.

Enhanced fees and exceptional responsibility premium

Enhanced fees may be available for senior counsel in CCM cases that LSS considers to be complex criminal matters. An exceptional responsibility premium may be available for senior counsel in CCM cases that LSS considers to be exceptionally costly, complex and serious. The Enhanced Fees and Exceptional Responsibility Premium policy sets out the procedures and criteria for approval of enhanced fees and/or an exceptional responsibility premium. See the LSS website (under Lawyers — LSS Policies).

Other compensation

Although LSS does not ordinarily pay for lost trial time, LSS may compensate you for legal fees when a case unexpectedly fails to proceed and if the case was concluded (not merely adjourned). To apply for legal fees for such a case, please write to Case Management, setting out the scheduled trial dates, the reason the case did not proceed, the date you were first notified the case would not proceed, and the actual preparation time spent that you were not able to bill under a block fee tariff item. In support of your request, you must provide timesheets and documents for the work you completed on the referral. For appeal or judicial review cases, the request should be sent to the Appeals Section.

In addition, LSS may, at its discretion, pay further legal fees to referral lawyers. See items 41 and 42 of General Terms and Conditions for more information.

Timekeeping

You are not required to produce timekeeping records when submitting accounts. However, you must keep timekeeping records for each referral and retain them for at least five years from the date of payment. LSS may ask you to produce these records as part of our audit process, or when considering requests for additional or extra fees. You must record time for CCM cases and victim/witness representations under section 278 of the Criminal Code. If you prefer, you may use the timesheet provided on the LSS website under Lawyers — Forms and questionnaires. You can also view an example of a completed timesheet.

Billing Items

This section describes the criminal tariff items and how to bill them. Most services are paid a single block fee or a block fee per half day. Some, such as CCM items, are paid an hourly rate or have other specific rules. A list of tariff codes (page 17) and a list of offence codes (page 19) follow this section. Some offence codes are noted in the billing item descriptions as well.

Use the information in this section when billing online (“e-billing”) through the secure Lawyers e-services section of the LSS website.

List of Offences

LSS issues referrals for four levels of offences: administrative, summary, indictable, or major. The appropriate levels and codes for all offences are listed below.

If the maximum penalty that applies to the offence is six months or less, the case is paid at the administrative or summary rate. If the maximum penalty that applies to the offence is greater than six months, the case is paid at the indictable or major rate. Even if an offence is listed as “administrative” or “summary” in this table or on your referral form, you will be able to indicate that the case is entitled to the indictable rate when you bill.

If the offence is a major level offence, the case is paid at the major rate.

Two exceptions to the rule are:

- Breach of probation — even though the minimum penalty is greater than six months, this offence is paid at the administrative rate even where the Crown proceeds by indictment.
- Unlawful confinement — where Crown proceeds summarily, the case is paid at the indictable rate. Where Crown proceeds by indictment, the case is paid at the major rate.

Conspiracy

If you act for a single client charged with conspiracy (with or without other substantive charges), you may bill at the indictable rate, regardless of the level of the substantive offence. If the substantive offence is major, however, bill at the major rate.
